

Medical Supplies Donation

In February 2009, Zee Medical, Inc. donated over $130,000 dollars worth of first-aid medical supplies (2 large freight truck loads) to be transported to Afghanistan. AEBT and the humanitarian non-profit organization, the Lamia Afghan Foundation (web site address: www.lamia-afghanfoundation.org) whose mission is to help the people of Afghanistan and the US military service men and women serving in remote forward operation bases worked collaboratively to transport the supplies to Afghanistan.

The services of Denton Airlift (USAID) were utilized to airlift the cargo overseas. AEBT and The Lamia Afghan Foundation will coordinate the distribution of these goods to medical facilities throughout Afghanistan.

Surface transportation of these goods was handled by Averitt Express organized through Healing Hands International - Nashville, TN, (Mr. Joseph Smith, Director of Operations) and was arranged through The Lamia Afghan Foundation for pick up from the drop off location.

We thank the generosity of Zee Medical, Inc. for giving such a wonderful gift for those in real need in a poor country such as Afghanistan.
